by Garson Kanin

14 January – 25 February

Southbank Theatre, The Sumner

Forum Nights: Monday 23 January, Monday 30 January

Junk-yard tycoon Harry Brock is settling into a swank Washington hotel ready to grease palms and browbeat Senators. But how can he win over Congress if his girlfriend, Billie, is always bringing down the tone? Perhaps reporter Paul Verrall can teach Billie a few things. But does she have the capacity to learn?

John

by Annie Baker

10 February – 25 March

Arts Centre Melbourne, Fairfax Studio

Forum Nights: Monday 20 February, Monday 27 February

A young couple arrive late one evening at a bed and breakfast in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Perhaps in this comfortable home surrounded by dolls and knick-knacks they can find peace with each other. But the past can be a kind of haunting, where rooms are temperamental and you never know what objects are thinking.

Faith Healer

by Brian Friel

4 March – 8 April

Forum Nights: Monday 13 March, Monday 20 March

From church hall to church hall, from one remote and dying village to the next, Francis Hardy, faith healer, works his magic, curing the sick and the lame, giving strength to the weak. His powers are real. Or so he says – and sometimes believes. But that was long ago and his powers these days are far less reliable.

Three Little Words

by Joanna Murray-Smith

18 April – 27 May

Southbank Theatre, The Sumner

Forum Nights: Monday 24 April, Monday 1 May

Bonnie and Annie and their best friends, Tess and Curtis have both been together for twenty years. But at an anniversary dinner Tess and Curtis casually drop a bombshell – they have decided to split up. There's no way to predict or control the devastation that follows.

Minnie & Liraz

by Lally Katz

12 May – 24 June

Forum Nights: Monday 22 May, Monday 29 May

The Autumn Road Retirement Village has a fiercely competitive bridge club, although with time and tide doing its inevitable work, no bridge partnership lasts for long. When Minnie Cohen loses her partner in an unfortunate swimming accident, the best player in the village, Liraz Weinberg, wants them to team up.

Macbeth

by William Shakespeare

5 June – 15 July

Southbank Theatre, The Sumner

Forum Nights: Monday 12 June, Monday 19 June

In the aftermath of battle, flushed with victory, two soldiers have a bizarre encounter. Three unearthly women prophesy for them undreamed-of greatness. But, when shortly afterwards, the first of their prophecies come true, one of them dares to imagine... And thus begins the reign of Shakespeare's most tormented tyrant.

Noises Off

by Michael Frayn

8 July – 12 August

Arts Centre Melbourne, Playhouse

Forum Night: Monday 17 July

It's after midnight and the touring company for a new play Nothing On struggles through a final dress rehearsal ready for the Opening Night that is only hours away. And although all seems shambolic now, remember the theatrical motto: 'It'll be all right on the night!' Well, in this case, maybe not.

Di and Viv and Rose

by Amelia Bullmore

12 August – 16 September

Southbank Theatre, The Sumner

Forum Nights: Monday 21 August, Monday 28 August

From different classes, from different places, with different experiences and expectations, Di, Viv and Rose would never have crossed paths if they hadn't shared a flat all those years ago at university. But surely time, which delivers triumph, disaster and change so unequally, will slowly draw these three women apart.

Hay Fever

by Noël Coward

23 September – 28 October

Southbank Theatre, The Sumner

Forum Nights: Monday 2 October, Monday 9 October

Although decidedly odd, the Bliss family can be perfectly charming when they want to be. It is just that, on this blighted weekend, each has invited a guest to stay at their house in the country without telling any of the others. So dashed inconsiderate! And for their poor guests, perfect agony!

The Father

by Florian Zeller, translated by Christopher Hampton

2 November – 16 December

Forum Nights: Monday 13 November, Monday 20 November

André may be eighty years old and apt, on occasion, to forget things, but they are only ever small things. It certainly doesn't explain why people are messing around with things in his flat. Something fishy is definitely going on, and he'll get to the bottom of it.

Forum Nights: Monday 27 November, Monday 4 December

Liz and Ben have known Cynthia and Evan for years and would never let anything get in the way of their friendship. Except, when the couples each set their sights on buying the same house. Forget friendship, forget respect, forget human decency: this is the Australian property market.
